

PRESS RELEASE
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

January 24, 2024

Contact: Laura Mays
Foundation Executive Director
(608) 873-2328

Here for You Today, Planning for Tomorrow
Stoughton Health Medical Outpatient Building Campaign

Stoughton Hospital Foundation received a $200,000 donation from the Wahlin Foundation, Inc. toward the construction of the Medical Outpatient Building (MOB), which is currently in progress. The MOB is slated to open in spring of 2025 with over 56,000 square feet which will include a dedicated area for specialty clinics, bring Stoughton Rehabilitation and Sports Medicine back to the main campus and provide additional shelled space for future growth. “With this generous donation to the Medical Outpatient Building, Stoughton Health will be able to continue to grow to meet the changing needs of the communities we serve and continue offering that exceptional personalized service Stoughton Health is known for,” added Laura Mays, Stoughton Hospital Foundation Executive Director.

Betsy McClimon, Wahlin Foundation, Inc. Executive Director shared, “the thing that makes this all possible is everyone at Stoughton Health, from the people planning the campaign, from our doctors and nurses, we have the talent that can fill the building, the planning, everybody in each different capacity... it’s really all of you that have made this possible for this community. On behalf of my family and the community, we want to thank you. We are so fortunate to have you here in Stoughton.”

For more information about Stoughton Hospital Foundation and the Here for You Today, Planning for Tomorrow Campaign, please go to stoughtonhealth.com.

Check Presentation from Betsy McClimon, Wahlin Foundation, Inc., Executive Director to Laura Mays, Stoughton Hospital Foundation Executive Director

###