Stoughton Trailers Cuts Ribbon on New Global Corporate Headquarters

4th Largest Trailer Manufacturer in U.S. Opens New Doors In Stoughton

Stoughton... Stoughton Trailers opened its new global corporate headquarters in Stoughton, Wisconsin. The facility is designed to promote the physical, mental and business health of Stoughton Trailers and its team members.

The new 53,000 square foot headquarters will house up to 200 Stoughton Trailers team members. The project took nearly 15 months to complete and used 300 tons of steel and 1,850 cubic yards of concrete.

"Our new headquarters is more than a building—it's an investment in our people, community, and the future of Wisconsin manufacturing. It strengthens our foundation of quality and hard work while promoting the physical, mental, and business health of our dedicated team," said Bob Wahlin, President & CEO, Stoughton Trailers.

Over the last 2 years, Stoughton Trailers has averaged 2,000 team members and is the largest employer in the City of Stoughton, the City of Evansville and the City of Brodhead. The company also has a manufacturing operation in Waco, Texas.

"In addition to over six decades of success in the manufacturing industry, Stoughton Trailers has been a champion of the Stoughton community, and that commitment to community is on full display with this new development," said Gov. Evers. "By centering the success of the greater Stoughton community in their project design, Stoughton Trailers is helping usher in more than just the next century of business success, and I can't wait to see all the good that will come out of this new building and community space."

Founded in 1961, the company is the 8th largest employer in Dane County and is the county's largest manufacturer. Stoughton Trailers has evolved into a family of companies serving the transportation industry, including: Stoughton Parts Sales, Stoughton Rental & Lease, Stoughton Acceptance Corporation, Stoughton Trucking, Stoughton Logistics and Stoughton Fabrication Solutions.

The new global headquarters' location is 1800 Greenbriar Drive, Stoughton, Wisconsin 53589
