Barrett Trailers Offers Extended Trailer Warranty

PURCELL, Okla. (Wednesday, June 1, 2016) – Barrett Trailers, LLC, an industry leader in gooseneck livestock and semi-trailer manufacturing, is pleased to announce that all new gooseneck trailers will carry a 2-year bumper-to-bumper warranty and a limited 10-year structural warranty.

“Barrett Trailers has had a reputation for manufacturing very durable trailers since we started in 1973,” stated Chris Sipe, General Manager. “It was time for us to support our customers with a warranty indicative of the quality of trailer we produce. When properly maintained and used in normal consumer use, the main frame of the trailer, consisting of the cross-members, side posts, roof beams, and coupler will be free from defective materials and workmanship for 10 years to the original purchaser.”

About Barrett Trailers: Barrett Trailers, owned by Stoughton Trailers, is a leading manufacturer of the highest-quality, all-aluminum livestock trailers on the American market. Barrett specializes in gooseneck and ground load trailers as well as semi-trailers for transporting hogs and cattle. The company challenges the industry with products valued for their design, craftsmanship and performance, and prides itself on meeting customer demands for quality, value and safety.
