Stoughton Trailers Offers Improved Health Benefits to Their Employees

Stoughton, WI (May 18, 2016) STI Holdings, Inc. – the parent company for Stoughton Trailers – has announced an improved health benefits package for all employees. All enhancements, from health benefits to life insurance to long and short term disability, were made possible without increasing premium costs to employees. The new plan improves the company’s health plans by offering both reduced employee deductibles and reduced maximum out-of-pocket expenses while adding coverage for more physician services.

“These upgrades reflect Stoughton Trailers’ commitment to our employees. In addition to the health benefits upgrade, our recent enhanced holiday hours and increased hourly pay rates prove we’re working hard to improve our work environment and to retain and attract top talent” said Bob Wahlin, President & CEO of Stoughton Trailers.

Effective June 1st, all hourly and salaried employees participating in one of the company’s two health insurance plans will be able to enjoy these health benefit improvements through their healthcare providers. The company will also implement health benefits improvements at its own, on-site healthcare clinics, which are available to all full-time employees at the company’s Stoughton, Evansville, and Brodhead locations.
