Subject: Lash Style Door Holdback

Stoughton Trailers has implemented an improvement for customers choosing to upgrade to the Lash style door holdback hardware. Pictured below is placement of the hardware. The receiver unit (hook with latch) is secured to the lower rail.

The chain is now secured to the door by a handle, replacing the previous version which employed a tab and a S hook to secure the chain. The additional handle makes it much easier to open the door safely as well as provides increased security for the chain.
